The District Conference provides an excellent opportunity for members of the bar to interact with members of the federal judiciary. This year's program features a session on what the future may bring society and the practice of law, a panel focusing on the mortgage crisis, a presentation on the future of the health care industry, and three breakout sessions specialized for civil, criminal, and bankruptcy practitioners. The conference will also include State of the Court Addresses by Chief Judge Roger L. Hunt, United States District Court and Chief Judge Mike K. Nakagawa, United States Bankruptcy Court. The conference will conclude with an open forum discussion with the federal judges.
